RAIL DISPUTE ACTION SOUGHT

Byrnes Intervention in Wage Case To Be Asked by Sen. George.

By The Associated Press
WASHINGTON, Nov. 22—Sen. George today asked War Mobilization Director James F. Byrnes to head off a threatened strike of non-operating railway employees by adjustment of their wage dispute. There was possibility of intervention by congress through a resolution proposed by Sen. Truman (D-Mo.) which would put congress on record as endorsing the eight-cent-an-hour increase sought by the workers and disavowed by Economic Stabilizer Fred Vinson.

McNutt Asking Veto?

As the senate received a house-approved measure delaying the future draft and shipping War Mobilization Commission on Paul McNutt of its powers over selective service, McNutt was reported ready to ask President Roosevelt to veto the bill if it reaches his desk. The measure requires induction of pre-war fathers be delayed until the pool of non-fathers has been exhausted.

Boy, 6, Accused As Burglar; Cancelled Checks Among Loot

A six-year-old Marion boy, believed to be the youngest person ever charged with a burglary here, was arrested yesterday afternoon by city police on charges of breaking in and entering a Marion home.

Entry was gained by breaking a window on the ground floor during the absence of the occupants.

A number of cancelled checks taken from the home, were recovered from his person before city police turned him over to the county official.

A hearing before Judge Oscar East of juvenile court was set for today. The boy was taken to the county juvenile detention home where he is being held pending an investigation.

Two Deaths Delay Action On Subsidies

Congress Marks Time in Respect To Ditter and Steagall.

By The Associated Press
WASHINGTON, Nov. 22—Two sudden deaths among the house membership today delayed for at least a day action on the administration's consumer subsidy program, and removed from the scene one of the leading figures in the battle against the White House subsidy plans.

Shortly after the house adjourned today, the death of Rep. Ditter (R-Ill.), a powerful figure in his party's caucus, killed yesterday in a Navy plane crash, Rep. Steagall (D-Tex.), frequently an administration stalwart, but recently lined up against the White House subsidy plans, and suddenly in a Washington hospital.

Steagall, who was struck with a heart attack, had as chairman of the banking committee played an important role in lining up farm state opposition to consumer subsidies.

His death automatically elevated Rep. Steagall (D-Ky.) to chairman of the banking committee.

Spence has taken the position subsidies would be enacted under the present circumstances in view of congress' instruction to President to hold the line.

While the two deaths will delay house decision on the consumer subsidy, it was not expected to affect the outcome. From the most optimistic of President Roosevelt's supporters on Capitol Hill have conceded privately the measure's passage will be passed by a substantial margin.

The subsidy vote had been scheduled for this afternoon, to be followed by debate on the new tax bill.

With the leadership determined to complete house action this week on both these items, a Thanksgiving day session appeared likely.

Eighth Army Advances Four Miles To Gain New Outposts

Montgomery's Troops Now in Position To Launch Heavy Offensive in Drive on Rome.

By The Associated Press
ALLIED HEADQUARTERS, ALGIERS, Nov. 22—Planning for four miles in the mountainous central sector of Italy, Gen. Sir Bernard L. Montgomery's Eighth army has seized two more towns overlooking an additional stretch of the main road to Rome and moved into position from which to launch a full-blown offensive against the enemy's winter defenses, Allied headquarters said today.

San Pietro Avellana, 10 miles due west of Agnone and only five miles east of an important junction of highways leading to the Italian capital, was scooped up along with Vastogardello, in the southwest of San Pietro Avellana, in the Montgomery advance, made despite heavy rains drenching the entire battlefield.

Falling back before the onslaught, the Germans were firing the towns of Alfedena and Capri De Sangro in apparent determination to leave no shelter when they are forced to give up those places.

Alfedena is three miles west of a fork in the central road to Rome and Castel De Sangro is miles northeast of the fork on the branch leading to the Rome-Pescasseroli highway.

Allied forces were approaching the fork from two directions, from the southwest from from Rome and from the east in the direction of Agnone, which the Eighth army took Saturday after moving out on an eight-mile deep enemy salient.

The new gains, putting the left wing of the Eighth army within two miles of the upper Sangro river, were scored as Allied headquarters announced that Gen. Sir Harold Alexander's ground force in Italy had been reinforced by the recent arrival of a large number of Canadians.

Meanwhile, the British destroyers Quilliam and Loyal, moving up the Adriatic coast, intercepted the German convoy of light craft, off San Benedetto, midway between Ancona and Pescara, and sank one and damaged a second.

They also damaged a tug and escaped with only slight damage when coastal guns opened fire.

In the air, American fighters and German fighters traded blows on an 18-acre area at the mouth of the Adriatic, where the German bomber force and the American fighters were engaged in a fierce battle.

It was estimated 10 German divisions now were defending the positions along the Garigliano and Sangro rivers, which prisoners and deserters continued to describe as the enemy's "winter line."

Brisk clashes occurred yesterday near the Adriatic coast where British patrols continued to cross the Sangro in probing expeditions, and in the high ground southeast of Alfedena.

Heavy downpours kept Fifth army activity on the western end of the battlefield down to patrol action and artillery duels.

In a twin aerial assault on an east coast point, Marauders damaged highway and rail bridges at Fano, 30 miles northwest of Ancona on the Adriatic.

Other B-25's with P-38 Lightnings as escort made their first attack on railway yards at Chiuri, on the main Rome-Florence railway.

Twin-engined Mitchells also scored hits on enemy gun emplacements at Gages, nine miles beyond the Fifth army front along the Tyrrhenian, and Warhawks and Kittyhawks bombed and strafed German trenches near

CONGRESSMAN DIES IN CRASH

Naval Plane Carries Rep. Ditter To Death; Army Craft Hits Mountain.

By The Associated Press
COLUMBIA, Pa., Nov. 22—A Navy plane, carrying helpfully ailing Congressman Ditter, crashed today in the Allegheny region, the heavy rain falling on this last night's rain, crashed and burned near here last night carrying Rep. J. William Ditter and Lt. Col. J. J. Manure to their death.

A few hours earlier an Army transport crashed into the Allegheny mountains near Tamaqua, 100 miles north in the Allegheny region, the plane became a blazing fireball, the metal body for seven occupants, whose names were withheld by the Third Service Command pending notification of next of kin.

Two soldiers, found wandering a half mile from the wreckage were taken to nearby Coudersport hospital.

Congressman Ditter, 55, a resident of Allegheny, Pa., and a ranking Republican in the house, was en route with Commander Melbaute from the Steubenville, Ohio, Naval air base to the Navy base at Willow Grove, Pa., 80 miles from where the plane crashed.

Manure, 55, was executive officer of the Willow Grove.

The Navy was unable to say why Ditter was aboard the plane, but it was pointed out congressmen frequently travel on military planes when on government missions.

Ditter was closely linked to Naval operations through his handling of Navy finance matters, and as a member of the house up-propriated assets committee.

An eyewitness to the crash, Arthur E. Schaffer of Columbia, Pa., said the single-engine Navy plane, its motor spluttering, came low over a church in the nearby hamlet of Kindertun. The plane roared upward 100 feet, then a short distance further crashed through some trees, overturning it in the ground.

A second, a regular of a half-ton plane, who was among the first to reach the scene, saw the bodies in the flames but said "I was too far to get to them."

The crash at Tamaqua occurred, residents said, when the plane apparently struck a high tension line and burst into the flames.

Gen. Eisenhower Denies Patton Reprimanded

By The Associated Press
ALLIED HEADQUARTERS, ALGIERS, Nov. 22—Allied headquarters denied today Lt. Gen. George S. Patton Jr. ever was reprimanded by Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower and said he is still in command of the American Seventh army.

Drew Pearson, radio commentator, broadcast last night from Washington that Gen. Patton had been "severely reprimanded" by Gen. Eisenhower and expressed the opinion Patton would not be used in combat any more.

Gen. Patton, who was in command of the Seventh army, was in the process of being reprimanded by Gen. Eisenhower, Pearson said.

U. S. LAUNCHES NEW OFFENSIVE AGAINST JAPS

Beachheads Established on Sandy Shores of Foe's Pacific Outposts.

By The Associated Press
PEARL HARBOR, P. H. Nov. 22—Take of the central Pacific drive has flared into fierce action against the Japanese at Makin and Tarawa in the Gilberts where they are fighting doggedly for a spearhead aimed at the heart of Japan's sea power.

On the low, sandy shores where natural protection is scant for attack and defense alike, the Americans punched out several beachheads against strong resistance at Tarawa, New Guinea, where they are fighting doggedly for a spearhead aimed at the heart of Japan's sea power.

Then landings, covered by naval units which held down aerial and surface bombardments, the heavy rain falling on this last night's rain, crashed and burned near here last night carrying Rep. J. William Ditter and Lt. Col. J. J. Manure to their death.

How much does it cost to bomb Berlin?

SUPPOSE, in the dusk of an English evening, 1,000 huge bombers soar over the Channel and head for Berlin.

By the time those planes return to England, their motors will have consumed 2,400,000 gallons of gasoline!

The cost . . . of the gasoline ALONE . . . will be more than $380,000.

To pay for the gasoline used on ONE such raid, 96,000 Americans would have to invest at least 10 percent of their next pay check in War Bonds!

You get a big kick out of reading about those 1,000-plane raids. You know that such raids, if repeated often enough, will soften up the Axis. But . . .

What are YOU doing to help pay the cost of those raids? (In addition to the gasoline they use, it costs Uncle Sam TWO HUNDRED MILLION DOLLARS to build 1,000 4-motored bombers . . . plus the cost of training the 10,000 men who make up their crews!)

Modern war is expensive business . . . its cost runs into fantastic figures. 30,000,000 American wage earners are now putting an average of 10 percent of each pay check into War Bonds every pay day . . . but still it isn't enough!

Our air raids on the Axis are increasing in frequency and intensity. When land operations really get going, the cost will be staggering.

More and more Americans must join the Pay-Roll Savings Plan . . . more than those already in the Pay-Roll Savings Plan must begin to jack up their War Bond purchases . . . must start to invest more than 10 percent!

Remember . . . War Bonds are the finest investment in the world today. You get back $4 for every $3 you invest. And . . . the more War Bonds you buy now, the quicker the Axis will be licked . . . and the less the war will cost in the long run.

Think it over. And every time you're tempted to put a nickel in something you don't absolutely need—put it in War Bonds instead!

Putting on the Brakes

SINCE Pearl Harbor this nation has been living history's heaviest load of responsibility on an upgrade, literally digging in to keep moving ahead.

Now, reflecting official operations based in Washington, the road seems to have been pulled over the top. Brakes are being applied to keep it from rolling forward on the new level.

Outback of war production are being made more and more to comply with government policy. The war department has turned back 13 millions of its surplus appropriation to the budget bureau.

Suddenly, there is realization by the people that the war production drag is tighter and easier. It is not a local experience, but widespread. Even in areas which have experienced no letup, information of a significant difference elsewhere is going to be circulated.

All this could be wholly accidental, meaning nothing, but the fact is it has happened and is continuing to happen. It must be dealt with as a circumstance of the war effort. The readiness and uncertainty created must be handled as public problems.

Something like this has been forecast a major problem which would be created by the end of the war in Germany, signal for reoperation of many factories to peacetime production. That is assuredly not the cause of the general easing off now; it is explained officially as the result of shifts of emphasis within the field of war production.

Nevertheless, it is a forecast of what inevitably will happen when finally the pressure to produce everything possible for the armed forces, which needed everything that could be produced, finally is eased off. What was looked forward to so long will be, when it happens, only a disturbance to all who made the mistake of forgetting what was bound to happen sometime.

Crusade for Truth

THE public is reminded in an American Union public affairs, in view of post-war planning, of responsibility for the press that reports on world events. This is one of the oldest American crusades.

It has not averted two great wars, but it has helped millions here and abroad to comprehend the causes and events of those wars. It has made available more factual information than was acted on by governments. Newspaper files disclose that the United States was adequately informed as to the direction Hitler's leadership was taking long before the invasion of Poland finally jarred governments into awareness of Germany's plan of conquest.

Kent Cooper, executive director of Associated Press and a foremost leader in the long struggle to open worldwide channels of communication, believes the principle of free accessibility of news in all countries of the world would be a greater step toward international understanding than any other single policy proposed in behalf of peace. His viewpoint is shared by the entire press of the United States. In his recent book, "Barriers Down," he revealed that it is hoped as well by enlightened newspaper executives in such apparently improbable countries as Japan and Germany.

All these men have learned by experience that the truth can make men free. Their conclusion is confirmed by the universal practice of despots in subverting the press to their personal propaganda whenever they are able to secure enough power to impose their will. They cannot survive without lies. If the people they mislead could know the truth, they could not be misled.

Better Safe Than Sorry

UNLESS motorists make ample allowance for the life expectancy of their cars, the United States transportation system may be a week by this time next year. It is better to play it safe now than the sorry before the end of next summer.

This means not only the utmost conservation of tires already in use, to give the synthetic program leeway for development, proving extremely difficult and slow, but conservation of automobiles. Motorists who have been victims of breakdowns and trouble with their cars are the forerunner of an epidemic of wrecks when will materialize when the next year.

Conservation of motor vehicles will be the first analysis a personal responsibility. Gasoline rationing sets the public pattern for the individual motorist to make more of a decision on the extra care which is necessary to prolong the life of his car. He should decide what conservation can be for his car. He should decide what conservation can be for his car. He should decide what conservation can be for his car.

Every motorist who wants to keep his car running until new cars are available some time in the future—perhaps two years from now—should remember that a mile saved is a mile earned for 1944 and 1945.

Hitler's Threatened Use of Gas Holds Less Fear for Military Men Than Civilians Imagine.

By PAUL MALLON

WASHINGTON, Nov. 22.—Hitler's threatened use of gas in the European attack on the British in Italy, has been a difficult subject for the public mind. He has threatened to use gas in the attack on the British in Italy, has been a difficult subject for the public mind. He has threatened to use gas in the attack on the British in Italy, has been a difficult subject for the public mind.

Scattered War Notes
 Hitler continues to move some reinforcements up to the battle line in Italy and had 11 divisions (165,000 men) there a few days ago. Although the bulk of his Italian army is still north of Florence where it must be cut off by amphibious encirclement. The current battle line is the best defensive position he has yet occupied with two rivers at either end of the line and mountains in between. Do not expect General MacArthur's men to clean out Bougainville in a few days as has been suggested. There are 25,000 Japs there and on one adjoining island which may mean long, hard and unrelenting fighting.

Unprepared for Invasion
 For any invasion of England, Hitler must have an air force capable of meeting and beating what we have there. He cannot muster such a force, he cannot successfully invade with or without gas.

He has a new long range rocket gun which is supposed to be able to shoot a gas shell as well as an explosive. This is probably the real basis of his threat. With it he can do a little damage, especially to civilians, but accomplish no military objective whatever. The gun is not even accurate at close range. From the continent he will have to shoot 30 or 40 miles or more, so its effect will be about as small as blind night bombing.

Just remember this in any talk about gas: The way it can be most effectively used is by spray or bomb from airplanes. We have both the planes and the gas to make such use extremely practical if anyone opens up the subject. The chance that it will be used is therefore more remote than ever before.

Heart Surgery Cuts Fatalities

By John L. Springer
 Associated Press Writer

New attacks of heart surgery, successful operations on the heart considered impossible six years ago—offer hope that the deadly, and death toll of heart disorder can be reduced in the future.

Among the procedure now employed is one which draws off the blood in the pericardium, the sac which surrounds the heart and quick death. Another technique restores circulation to the heart after it has stopped beating as a result of wounds to other parts of the body. The surgeon quickly makes an incision with any available instrument grasps the heart and rhythmically massages it at a rate of sixty times a minute.

Total War and Unconditional Surrender

Foreign Affairs Expert Explains Responsibilities of Victors.

"UNCONDITIONAL surrender" has only vague meaning for the ordinary citizen of the governments committed to that policy in World War II.

This is a total war not only in the sense of physical effort but in the sense of thought. It is a struggle of men's minds, as well as their physical resources. This is an abstract of an article in the current issue of "Foreign Affairs," quarterly review of the Council of Foreign Relations. Hamilton Fish Armstrong, author of the article, is the editor of the quarterly.

In any world not yet conquered, declares Mr. Armstrong, the complete military defeat of the Japanese, then a period of probation for development of capacity for self-rule. Only then will Japan earn its place in the Asiatic co-prosperity sphere which it tried to create by violence.

ITALY'S lesson is to learn it cannot, as a second class power, build itself into a master race with "racial" grannies, black-belt and white-belt.

Muddy Moe

Harold Chin, Chinese-American pilot for Pan American-Chinese National Airways Corp. Line flying supplies over the Himalaya mountains from India to China, has brought to the United States an almost incredible story on the speed with which the new Lido road is now being built to connect the two countries by-passing the old Jap-held Burma road. All records for road building in that part of the world are being broken, and a lot of the credit is given to a Japanese labor force which the Americans call "Muddy Moe."

Reason for the fast work on this project is that American engineers are working on the Indian end of the road while the Japs, occupying northern Burma, are at work on the other end. The Americans have seen shovels, trucks, bulldozers and all the modern earth-moving machinery. Across the mountains, on their end of the road, the Japs use native coolie labor, carrying baskets of dirt on their heads, using hand tools, picks and shovels and are all but scratching out grades and a roadbed with their fingernails.

During War Government Solders Everything but Wind Up Begging in Peace

By DAMON RUNYON

OUR GOVERNMENT'S word is not what it was when it comes to promises made to the soldiers of our wars in the past. All break faith with the soldier war unless some method is made making the promises iron-clad and unbreakable. I don't think it can be done. Law seemed strong enough in the past, easily broken when the years have memory of the service of the soldier government through congress has common veterans laws and again.

After a war is some years behind, political states seeking votes find out appropriations for veterans popular with voters, especially those who did not see the war, and equally popular among non-voters who resent the old soldiers are getting benefits from the public treasury in any manner.

Forgotten then are the war days when people were cheering for the soldiers and trying to show them attention. Forgotten are the hardships endured by the fighting men and the victors won. The smallest favors to the beggar by the civilians, particularly who reach maturity after war and to whom mere history.

FORTUNATELY for the soldiers of the future there are millions of them, not a small number of other wars. They are active in the affairs of the nation in the way to come and able to make the cause of the veterans respected and feared by the politicians. The veterans of this war will not have to beg with hands in hand begging assistance from an ungrateful government and getting the same as the soldiers of other wars.

The inequities of the government toward veterans is almost unbelievable. It is the most liberal with its promises of what it will do for the soldiers when it needs the money. The old days it promised them many rewards to induce them to enlist, as the distance three-fourths of their pay and advances on retirement, which after many years is repudiated as of June 1, 1942, leaving many old timers without bread.

In this war, the promises for the future are equally glowing, but since enlistment has been replaced by the draft, they are mainly for political purposes. They are to keep the men in with the current order, yet nothing to be has been done to provide for their future. Thousands of discharged soldiers will testify that one big promise of their jobs awaiting their return is already being shattered.

IT IS TRUE that as compared to the soldiers of our past war, men in the service are well paid. Their dependents get good allowances. But the problem of the soldier is not while he is in the service. It is after he is out of the service, and so far I fail to see adequate provision for him then, though he continues to hear promises.

If nothing is done now, I fear that it will never be done. In the future when civilians are sent to the front, the government will give the politicians some work on, though it is not of record that the "veterans" appropriations in the past have reduced taxes a dime.

A government ungrateful enough to soldiers to repudiate an allowance of 57 years duration, to charge them against the pensions given them, to assess the heroes of the war for hospital and to fight a bonus to men who served it, not likely to be suddenly overcome by any new law.

I hope I am wrong. I hope the government does everything it has promised and that for the veterans of World War II. But I don't like to see in the near future just the sign of good intentions to sustain my faith.

Safe and Simple
 By Truman Twill
 Whenever some mashed-up citizen says how he was strong-armed into war, upstairs windows for his wife and run himself in the act, the safe, simple Twill method doing this hazardous job looks safer than any other.

It is a method that eliminates the danger of keeping the fall off anything inside where he can't see the window or the help of a few easily available tools such as a hammer, screw driver, chisel, bar and drill. Jam the screw at the little sump of wood that holds the sash of the window in place. Good belt with the hammer. When it is in light, give a vigorous twist, and a screw driver will break, the little sash break, or it will come loose.

If it comes loose, it is now time to take a brisk run, being careful not to break a nose like a bowling ball making a hole in the sash weights plunging as they are released.

The sash cords now are off the peg wedged tightly, which is going to pull off the pieces where the weights go up. This also can be done with a screw driver by giving the screw driver a twist with the hammer, twisting and yanking the meaning is to take out a few of the cords. The sash weights are heavier than you think you have wrapped up your mashed-up head, and washed the window, the job is done, except for replacing the sash.

Holding it in two hands, pull up the weight on the end of the cord and place the end of the cord in the proper place on the side of the sash with the third hand. If it there firmly do the same for the other side. Replace the sash and the job is done. Average time consumed in this operation is 45 minutes a window. In a house with stairs, it is an unusually large window washer using the Twill method in approximately eight hours.

Housewives, is the reason no one ever anything if your upstairs windows are on the outside for the duration of the war until the boys come to risk their lives to save a window coming marching.

So They Say—
 We cannot expect all other people the same points of view, just as we do not expect them to impose their ways upon us. The important thing is the will to understand each other and work for the Gov. Leverett Saltonstall of Massachusetts.

If you attempt to win the war first and peace afterward you will win neither. —Mrs. MacLellan, librarian of congress.

Replies which advocate the use of strong measures, such as punishment of strikers and strike breaking, are favored by the majority of the public in favor of outlawing strikes in war plants. This majority reached its high of 86 per cent in the spring of 1942, and today the poll finds nearly seven in every ten Americans of voting age in favor of a law forbidding strikes in war industries, as against continuing to give such workers the right to strike. The question put to the cross-section was:

Should Congress pass a law forbidding strikes in war industries, or should the workers in war industries continue to have the right to strike?

Make strikes illegal... 69%
Permit strikes... 23%
Undecided... 8%

Low students of public opinion maintain that the public in its view of such complex matters as labor strikes is necessarily infallible. The public can only arrive at its views on the basis of the facts known to it. The job of fact-finding polls is accurately and objectively to measure such opinion. On this basis, the current survey shows unmistakably that if the public is to be persuaded that more stringent strike laws are unnecessary or impossible, then the administration and labor leaders must do a better job in promoting their arguments.

HEALTH QUIZ

Do you have poor digestion? ☐ YES ☐ NO
Do you feel bloated after eating? ☐ YES ☐ NO
Do you get sour or upset easily? ☐ YES ☐ NO
Do you feel tired—listless? ☐ YES ☐ NO

Now everyone knows that to get the good out of the food you eat—you must digest it properly. But what most people don't know is that Nature must produce about two pints of the digestive juice—liver bile—each day to help digest your food. If Nature fails—your food may remain undigested—he sour and heavy in your digestive tract.

Thus, it is simple to see that one way to aid digestion is to increase the flow of liver bile. Now, Carter's Little Liver Pills start to increase this flow quickly for thousands—often in as little as thirty minutes. When bile flow increases, your digestion may improve. And, soon you're on the road to feeling better—which is what you're after.

Don't depend on artificial aids to counteract indigestion—when Carter's aid digestion after Nature's own order, when taken as directed. Get Carter's Little Liver Pills today—at any drugstore—only 25¢. You will be glad you did.

helps them take off faster, carry more bombs and fly farther!

Ask any bomber crew—they'll tell you how important quality is in the aviation gasoline that powers their engines. For the higher the power—the quicker the take-off, the bigger the bomb load, the farther they can fly!

A Super Aviation Fuel Concentrate

Today high-powered aviation fuel flows from Sunoco refineries in larger quantities than ever before—largely because of Dynafuel, an exclusive development of Sunoco engineers and chemists.

Dynafuel is more than a gasoline. It is a super aviation fuel concentrate which is never used undiluted but is blended with gasolines produced by other methods in order to step-up their quality.

50% More Power Than U.S. Standard 100-Octane Test Fuel

Dynafuel contains a larger percentage of certain ingredients which have extraordinary power-producing qualities. That is why it actually tests 50% higher in power than U.S. standard 100-octane test fuel!

The Dynafuel Process increases quantity, too—because it utilizes even those portions of the crude which formerly went only into low grade fuels.

A Triumph of Private Initiative

Dynafuel was developed by Sunoco without government aid or subsidy. The company risked its own capital, its own credit, in order to pay the huge costs of building the plants for its production.

It is through such free play of private initiative that all American progress has been achieved.

Better Motor Fuel for Post-War Cars

Today every drop of Dynafuel is reserved for military needs. But after the war, Sunoco's advanced processes and equipment will bring you far better fuels for tomorrow's improved automobiles and airplanes. SUN OIL COMPANY—PHILADELPHIA

Brain Specialist Is Called To Treat Wounded Youth

A specialist in brain surgery was called to Marion to treat a young man who was injured in a recent accident. The man, who is now in the hospital, has a serious head injury. The specialist, who is from a nearby city, is expected to arrive in Marion tomorrow morning. The accident occurred on Sunday afternoon, Nov. 21, when the young man was riding his bicycle on a residential street. He was struck by a car and thrown into the air. He landed on his head and was unconscious for several hours. He was then taken to the hospital, where he was treated by a local doctor. The specialist is expected to perform surgery on his head tomorrow.

Be Quick To Treat Bronchitis

Chronic bronchitis may develop if you cough, chest cold or acute bronchitis is not treated and you cannot stop the coughing. It is a serious condition and can lead to complications. If you have a cough that lasts more than a few days, you should see a doctor. The doctor will examine your chest and lungs and may order a chest X-ray. If you are diagnosed with chronic bronchitis, you will need to take medicine to help you breathe and to reduce the inflammation in your airways. You will also need to avoid things that can irritate your lungs, such as smoke and dust. It is important to treat bronchitis quickly to prevent it from becoming a chronic condition.

Long Way To Go

Of course, this is just the beginning of an offensive which has far to go, and we shouldn't expect it to achieve all its objectives in the immediate future. However, it is certainly heartening to see our forces in the Pacific, and especially our Navy, reach that point of strength where we can carry the war to the enemy without cessation. When you stop to think what has happened to our fleet at Pearl Harbor, the present operations speak volumes for our power of recovery.

War Prisoner Exchange Urged at District Legion Meeting

200 Members from 8 Counties at Session in Marion Hear
Address by State Commander.

Some 200 American Legion members from eight counties gathered in Marion yesterday for a district meeting and heard their state commander, Rossie Williams, of Oak Hill, O., urge that Legion groups throughout the district appeal to the government to use every possible means to speed the exchange of prisoners of war. Only by vigorous efforts, Williams said, can the United States fighting men held in enemy camps, especially those of the Japanese, be freed through exchanges.

At no time are family members more united than when funeral services are required for some member of that family. It is as though each one seeks to in some way compensate the smaller family circle.

Funeral Service is especially fitted to the needs of a family. With better understanding of a family's wishes at such a time, with Mrs. Hughes' assistance, it is more like one family than is customarily the case in funeral service.

Church Group Asks Hospital Investigation

By The Associated Press

CLEVELAND, Nov. 22.—The Cleveland Church Federation will ask Gov. Bricker to appoint a committee to investigate conditions at Cleveland state hospital, Dr. D. H. Sharpe, federation president, said today.

Dr. Sharpe added the federation would request that no member of the state welfare department be represented on the committee. Gov. Bricker had been invited to a meeting of the federation last night but did not reply, Dr. Sharpe reported.

Dr. H. C. Schumacher, chief of the child guidance center, told the group conditions had always been bad at the hospital and probably were worse now.

"It is time that an unbiased committee investigate, sift fact from rumor and report," he declared.

General Calls Alaska Main Route To Tokyo

CLEVELAND, Nov. 22.—"The main route to Tokyo is through Alaska and the Aleutians," declares Brig. Gen. Elwyn D. Post, chief of staff of the army's Alaska department.

Visiting his parents on a week-end leave, the 44-year-old general who helped direct offensive actions that took Alaska and Kiska told an interviewer "whether or not the route will be used is entirely up to higher authority."

"Ohio families with boys in Alaska can be thankful they are up there," Gen. Post remarked. "Alaska is the healthiest country in the world."

"Our men are working hard and have little time to be dissatisfied. The morale is excellent," he added.

BEDEFORD SCHOOL HEAD DIES

By The Associated Press

CLEVELAND, Nov. 22.—Dr. Anson E. Moody, 60, superintendent of public schools in nearby Bedford, died yesterday. A native of Champaign county, Ohio, Dr. Moody was a former member of the executive board of the Ohio Education Association and a past vice president of the Ohio Congress of Parents and Teachers.

Dewey Given Demand for LaGuardia's Removal

NEW YORK, Nov. 22.—A demand that Mayor F. H. LaGuardia be removed from office because his actions and testimony in regard to crime in Brooklyn's Bedford-Stuyvesant section "clearly indicate misfeasance" was before Governor Thomas E. Dewey today.

A resolution directed to the governor calling for LaGuardia's ouster was adopted yesterday at a mass meeting, sponsored by the Mid-Town Civic League, shortly after the mayor had defended himself against charges of laxity in crime prevention during his weekly radio broadcast.

The mayor last week ordered a detailed police investigation of the Brooklyn area, known as "Little Harlem," after a Kings county grand jury held LaGuardia responsible for "a deplorable state of lawlessness" in the section.

TRINITY CHURCH STARTS SECOND SERVICE FLAG

Unveiled at Special Program Sunday; Other Churches Add Stars.

A special service in Trinity Baptist church Sunday morning featured unveiling of a second service flag and reunion by Dr. Warren P. Heban on "The Church's Ministry to Men and Women in the Service." He said in part, "A global tragedy has pulled over seven million men and women out of their accustomed ways, and sent them to war. One hundred and ten of these belong to us. We dedicate today a new service flag with 17 new stars upon it. We do well to honor our men and women in service, but our task cannot end here. The church must minister to the needs of the troubled mothers, the lonely widows and the aged and infirm, but we can encourage them to follow by putting our money into the hands of agencies which these chaplains may be a religious and devoted force to distribute to the needy and to the needy."

As we pray for our loved ones, strength and guidance, let us care and faith have around them and us."

The first service flag of the church was dedicated several months ago.

Oakland Evangelical church, which has Sunday school, will must be paid time and a half for work on Thanksgiving day, and on the day after tomorrow, Nov. 23, the department of LaGuardia space on "God's Plan for the World."

Some Disagree

He urged a "balanced budget" and "a balanced mind" and there is today a variety of thought and policy that becomes very important over such snags as the present offer to formulate the program of what to do with the business cycle and modify the business cycle and modify the business cycle and modify the business cycle.

Method Favored

He asserted, "Take all other segments of the American people, business feels that the interest of the national economy can be served best by raising through taxation all the funds necessary to prosecute the war without endangering that economy, and by borrowing the balance."

Connolly advocated repeal of the recapture provision of the negotiable law; termination of the excess profits tax at the close of hostilities; business be permitted to establish post-war reserves from current earnings; no more general increases on corporate or individual rates; integration of the victory tax with normal and surtax; 100 per cent excess profits credit instead of 95 per cent.
